Kelly Moore to Present Webcast Performance

The Greater Manchester Arts Council is pleased to host music composer, filmmaker, and humanitarian Kelly Moore who will perform with Hillary Smith and Annie D'Olivo of Emerald Dreams for a Music For Mankind' Benefit Concert on Friday, March 19, 2010 at 6:30 p.m., at Al Ducci's Cafe on Elm Street in Manchester. The event will be a worldwide webcast event and presented on the Music For Mankind' Web site.

"Reaching to a worldwide audience is a natural progression at this stage for Music For Mankind." Moore explains: "People are deeply touched by the story and the images I show them of how others in this world struggle just to survive another day. The possibility of people coming together as a global community to help each other is a very powerful dynamic."

Performing with members of Emerald Dreams is gratifying for Moore. "It's always a tremendously wonderful experience for me to perform with the folks in my ensemble. They are all so talented and we have a great time together. I do love the layers of sound they bring to my music and re-creating the CDs I've produced. It's a lot of fun."

The most exciting part for Moore is being able to provide a concert for the children that he filmed in Nicaragua and Peru.
